GEN. ALEXANDER'S VICTORIES

WHILE BREATH TAKING NEWS IS reaching us daily from the eastern front with promising developments shaping in rheasure for which some of the more pro-Normandy, most of us perhaps have been gressive Conservatives voted a "political regarding the all-important campaign in Italy as something in the nature of a side with a good citizen who was "drafted" to show-instead of a highly-strategic offensive which has actually taken General Sir Harold Alexander's international army nearer to GOOD BEGINNING Berlin than progress to date has taken General Eisenhower's men.

As this is written, the Allied armies in the Italian peninsula are pounding at the last bastions of what is left of the Pisa-Florence-Rimini front, with their reduction apparently near at hand. The so-called Gothic line lies considerably to the north of Pisa and Florence and stretches eastward to the Adriatic to a point between Rimini and Ravenna, with the important city of Bologna situated northwest on the plain on the northern side of the mile-high moun tain range-82 miles from ancient and historic Florence assuming full significance. When the account of the Italian campaign comes to be written the historian will allot a good deal of space to the superb generalship of Sir Harold Alexander and his army from the British Commonwealth, the Indian Empire, the United States and other member countries of the United Nations. At its beginning, of course, there were delays and disappointments; but all these have been almost forgotten in the succession of vital victories which have followed since the fall of Rome.

If the fighting on the peninsula has at times attracted less attention than the more spectacular battles on the eastern front, or the spirited speculation on the fortunes of the valiant men who proved to Hitler that his so-called west wall was not impregnable, it must be put down to the fact that Allied triumphs there have been scored in more. methodical fashion. But the Fuehrer has considered it no side show. On the contrary, he has kept many of his best divisions on that front-because he has known all along that General Alexander's main objective was not Rome, not Florence, not Bologna, Verona, Genoa, Milan or Turin but the German Fatherland itself.

And this is the reason why the Nazi high command has not dared to withdraw from the vital Italian front those elements of the Stanislaw Miloljczyk left Britain yesterday Luftwaffe which are sorely needed in the east and in the west. This is proved by the fact that in three days this week nearly 200 working arrangement with his own exiled enemy planes were shot out of the sky. In other words, the victories in Italy, and their constant threat to the Reich proper, have tical approach to a delicate problem. contributed immeasurably to Russian successes in the east and the already substantial progress in Normandy,

BRAZIL GOES TO ITALY

RECENTLY CAME THE NEWS THAT Brazil had sent a sizable force to Italy to fight in the common cause against the European member of the Axis. Speaking of the somewhat disturbing scene in some parts of Latin America, incidentally, the Brazilian action reaffirms the fact that there are dictatorships and dictatorships; and it is not an opprobrious term we should lightly throw at the government at Rio de Janeiro. To be sure, the administration of President Vargas is dictatorial, with its suspended constitution, dissolved Congress, and tightly controlled press. But it has been of tremendous help to the United Nations.

Brazil rooted out the Axis list within its boundaries, provided the United States with air bases, and elsewhere fully supported Allied aims in word and action. Of course, dictatorship is a precarious form of government at best. Neither Canada, Great Britain, nor the United States admires it. But surely President Vargas deserves for preserving much of the spirit of democracy. His record lends confidence to his promise that constitutional government | flict in London and Washington. will be restored to Brazil after the war.

OVERLOOKED MR. BRACKEN

EVIDENTLY THOSE MEMBERS OF THE Progressive Conservative Party who are helping to run the nation's affairs in the House of Commons do not consider it necessary to compare notes with their remotecontrol leader before they express themselves on public issues. Yesterday's debate on the and reading of the government's Family Allowance Bill, for example, produced cate gorical assurances from four influential Progressive Conservatives that they intend to vote for the measure. These were Mr. Howard Green of Vancouver, Mr. John Diefenbaker of Lake Centre, Mr. A. H. Bence of Saskatoon City, and Lt.-Col. J. A. Ross of Souris. Perhaps the Vancouver member crystallized the attitude of his colleagues when he said:

"I intend to support this measure. I do so in the hope that it will benefit Canadian children and Canadian parents, thereby benefiting the Canadian nation as a whole,"

Mr. Bracken said recently that the bill Mr. Green and his fellow Conservatives in 000,000, or 76.7 per cent of war expenditure tend to support had all the earmarks of a "political bribe." IT IS REPORTED THAT SOME 100,000 men and women from the firnting serv-ices as veterans of this war have so far lished in civilian life under the National Selective Service rehabilitation organizations and veterans' welfare officers.

The record shows that in this work the effort is being made to treat every veteran on an individual basis. .The jobs are selected with due regard for previous training, in clination and degree of capacity or pacity of these men. STRETCH drive to the wire seems to be the order for the clubs Horse Racing in the ball league. Coach Laurel Harney's V.M.D. crew made it a lot tougher for the two services nines, Army and Navy, to catch them by edging out the R.C.A.F. Wednesday night and, with three games left to play, look to have better than an even chance of with two straight outs. Demoran was bounced from the game in the eighth when he objected to a decision at second base which would have retired the side and the side and decision at second base which would have retired the side and second the side

FOR THE first time this season the Eagles were in there pulling of for the Harney crew Wednesday. Defeat of the Flyers in proved the Eagles' chances of making the playoffs. The birdmen still have a plenty tough road to travel and will do or die in three games next week against the R.C.A.F., Army and Navy. Present standings show the Eagles a game and a half back of the boys from for the Stars, bested Manuel by his board in the spring and last evening in the Juvenile Base Salvo for a 4 to 2 win.

Local Needs May Assure Postwar Ship Industry

VANCOUVER (CP)—A post-war shipbuilding industry in Brit-ish Columbia may be ensured as it is possible several new coastal passenger ships will be built in B.C. shipyards, Clarence Wallace, president of Burrard Drydock Co.

Ltd., said today.

Shortage of labor to carry out both wartime and private build-ing of ships is foreseen, however, Mr. Wallace added.

No Eviction Ban, Says Ottawa

VICTORIA DAILY TIMES 15

OTTAWA (CP) Government officials indicated today Vancouver city and labor requests for regulations banning eviction proceedings because of the housing shortage could not be met.

In addition they warned housing legislation to be considered within the next few days in the House of Commons would con-stitute a long range policy and would offer no immediate solution to the problem.

Note Circulation Increases in Britain

HOME-MADE HAY-RAKE

HAVE COME to the conclusion that my appetite for Vancouver Island is like Oliver Twist's-more-ish. For after my four days at Shawnigan Lake, I developed such a taste for pastoral scenes that when a friend, on business beat, invited me for a trip as far as Koksilah, I accepted with alacrity.

So on Tuesday afternoon we set out in perfect weather and duly arrived at our

While the other members of the party pursued their business, I browsed around, sniffing for news as an old pointer sniffs for game.

And in the shadow of Mount Tzouhalem I found it, right in the midst of having

AFTER HEATH ROBINSON

IT WAS WHAT is known in agricultural circles as a buck rake. But this model was not of the Massey-Harris pattern.

As we used to say of the Old Masters, this one was "after Heath Robinson." For it reminded me of nothing so much as one of the weird and impossible contraptions with which that English cartoonist used to regale us in Punch

Amazingly, it worked. And worked to such good purpose that it was away ahe of the baling machine into whose hungry maws it vomited its load of hay. But I am ahead of my story. Let me try to describe this home-made hay-rake, or "sweep," as its inventors call it.

CRAZY INGREDIENTS

FIRST, YOU take the chassis of an ancient truck. On to it you graft part of the frame of an equally ancient jalopy, several iron rails from a bedstead, a couple of angle irons, and any other bits of metal you find

Then you get a winch, some heavy chains and do a little manoeuvering with some home-made cables,

Having put these together until it resembles a sort of bedframe-cum-cage on wheels, bles a sort of bedrrame-cum-cage on wheels, you fashion a pair of giant tongs.

The lower part has about a dozen long, heavy wooden teeth, and the upper just two prongs at either end of its jaws. These you impossible angle. Then you pull a lever here, and push a button there, and away you go "sooping her up," as the Scots say when curling.

INGENUITY AND PATIENCE

This mixture has to be impregnated with inventiveness, combined with inexhaustible patience and that genius which has been de-

Finally you have to spice it with a dash of adventure, flavor with the real pioneering spirit, sprinkle with a final prayer that it will work and Eureka, you have found

Strange as it looks, the "sweep" efficiently and expeditiously does the work of four men and two teams of horses. And, as they say in the vernacular: "Brother, that ain't hay!"

BORN OF NECESSITY

AS I WATCHED that weird machine A streaking down the field and sooping up about half a ton of hay, lifting it high in the air, then depositing it on the baling wagon. I marveled at the spirit behind its others-needed help in the worst possible

They couldn't get labor nor buckrakes,

So, necessity being the mother of inven-tion, Watson Evans and David White, two practical farmers, put their heads together and decided to make one.

As I implied above, for three months they drew plans and experimented and bought bits of junk here and there. Like all inventors, they met with many discouragements. But they persevered and finally it worked and has been going hard ever they are planning to make a bigger and

PIONEER'S GRANDSON

IT ISN'T EVERY man who could produce such an ingenious and efficient piece of farm machinery out of such a hodgepodge

Young Evans inherits his go-aheadedness and initiative from his grandfather, that Grand Old Man of pioneers, John Evans of Cowichan, who died not very long ago, within sight of his century mark.

And David White, his partner in the project, learned to be adventurous in the first World War. Then a Saskatchewan man, he enlisted and served overseas with the famous "Little Black Devils."

Though crippled from wounds, he has farmed on his own place at Konstlan for the last nine years. And drives the "sweep" with nimble efficiency.

These two men and their home made which farming is undergoing today. If more of our young men had their progressive spirit and stick-to-it-iveness we wouldn't Among exceptions in the sleepy retreat was Great Northern which managed to post a new top for 1944. Backward the greater part of the proceedings were U.S. Steel, General Motors and Goodyear.

Canadian issues were quiet but McIntyre gained 14 and Dome
